Stuart Styron (* 1975 in Arnsberg, Germany) is a German actor, musician and visionartist.

After the 10th grade secondary school 1981-1991 he began a profession as an Industrial Precision Mechanic in Arnsberg, Germany. A restructuring in the professional life took place during the Civilian Community Service time in 1996 as a geriatric nurse. During that time Stuart Styron played in the open-air theatre.

From 1997 to 2000 he went to a drama school in Hamburg and became state certified actor. Back in Arnsberg he went on working during his artistic break as an Industrial Precision Mechanic temporarily. Two years later he concentrated during the following months on the music. Guitar, Keyboard, Vocals and Songwriting became an important source of his artistic expression. Throughout the entire term he had television roles and played also theatre.

In Baltimore and New York, USA in 2005 he started to transmit in holiday camps for youngsters his dramatic art. A year later he continued this direction in Connecticut. Later in Arnsberg, Stuart Styron was involved during the art summer in the cultural office and in the Theatron Theatre. Marketing, Photography, Documentation and Slideshows occurred in 2008/2009 further in the states. In Arnsberg he was involved again in the cultural office further. Guidance for Gero-Codex, cloister of Wedinghausen, photography, documentation and the art summer contained his work.

Typically Stuart Styron is in a Music Production. The cooperation occurs with producer Klaus Schierling.[6] In 2013 songs have been published by the record company Timezone. In September 2013 Styron will study as a soundtrack composer.
