Trip through rich soundcolours towards the ultimate harmony

Lefteris Mikalis is one of the artists who serves the Greek music with consistency and liability. Not only has he made a name for himself as a singer but as a composer as well. He was born in a small town in Western Greece, but since his early childhood, he has been living in Athens listening to the heart beat of the ancient city. He took part and distinguished himself in several festivals. In twenty years he composed over 150 songs, which were performed by well known greek singers. Recently he marked a new departure in his career. By experimenting with different kinds of music over the years he found his way to electronic music. His music is a mixture of sounds from past and future worlds, that make the present one more interesting.

The box set „Atmospheric“ by Lefteris Mikalis is a unique musical suggestion. By using the sounds as a vehicle the artist take you on a trip through rich sound colours towards the ultimate harmony. With a special modern acoustic and electronical sound he manages to combine East and West while creating music without borders. Each orchestral piece creates a special atmosphere which is very highlight of this album.
